A selection of this month’s GW events—neighbors welcome!

MARCH 2016

FRIENDS March Meeting
School Without Walls Common Area, 2130 G Street, NW
FRIENDS is a community group formed in 2002 with a goal of building a better Foggy Bottom/West End through communication, cooperation, and collaboration. Join us for the March FRIENDS meeting. We will be discussing upcoming spring events at the university, other new and exciting activities, as well as hearing from a guest speaker. Everyone is welcome at the meetings, so please feel free to invite friends and neighbors. For more information and to RSVP, please contact Richard Livingstone by calling 202-994-9132 or emailing rliving@gwu.edu.

Lisner + Jaleo Present: FLAMENCO FESTIVAL - Farruquito “Improviso”
Lisner Auditorium, 730 21st Street, NW
Renowned as “one of the greatest flamenco dancers of this new century” (The New York Times), Farruquito is regarded as one of the most faithful representatives of flamenco puro—the dance in its traditional state. A phenomenally popular artist both in Spain and around the world, his precise yet passionate dancing style embodies this rich cultural heritage. Improviso is a master class in authentic and visceral flamenco; an intimate show centered on daring improvisation. Tickets range from $35-$65. Call the Lisner Auditorium box office at 202-994-6800 or visit www.lisner.gwu.edu to purchase tickets.

Coloring Pages: Works from the Corcoran Collection of Artists’ Books
Luther W. Brady Art Gallery, 805 21st Street, NW, 2nd Floor
Artists’ books from the Corcoran Art & Design Collection showcase color and color imagery in the pages of their work. Some stories are told completely through color; others, though they might use muted palettes, create a sensation with words that paint images of colorful scenes. The exhibit displays only a sampling of artists’ books from the Art & Design Collection from the Corcoran. These and many others can be viewed in the Special Collections Research Center at GW’s Gelman Library. Visit www.library.gwu.edu/scrc to find out more. This event is free and open to the public. The gallery is open Tuesday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information on exhibitions, please visit www.gwu.edu/~bradyart.

For the Record: The Art of Lily Spandorf
The George Washington Museum and The Textile Museum, 701 21st Street, NW
This exhibition—presented at the George Washington University Museum and The Textile Museum and co-produced and co-curated with the Historical Society of Washington, D.C.—explores the artwork of Austrian-born watercolorist and journalist Lily Spandorf (1914-2000). Working with pen, ink, watercolor, and gouache, Spandorf became known for the news illustrations she created for the Washington Star, the Christian Science Monitor, and The Washington Post, among many other periodicals. Late in her career she became celebrated for passionately recording the transformation of Washington, D.C.’s urban landscape, especially the many red-brick, late-19th-century buildings facing demolition, being demolished, or whose historical contexts were erased for modern construction. For more information, visit www.museum.gwu.edu/spandorf.
