Re: Z.C. Case No. 09-19 – 2010 Mount Vernon Campus Plan
Request to Reopen the Record for Clarification

Dear Chairman Hood and Members of the Commission:

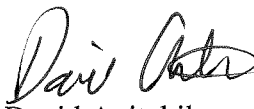

The University respectfully requests that the Commission reopen the record for a point of clarification regarding the orientation of the A1 building.

Following the public hearing, representatives of the University spoke with FAWS regarding the A1 building. In response, the University further reduced the height of the A1 building, as detailed in the University's April 8, 2010 post-hearing submission. The University determined that it could not, however, change the orientation of the A1 building as recently requested by FAWS. The University specifically agreed to the building's current orientation based in part on requests made by multiple community members during the year-long community planning process. The University believes that it would be unfair to those members who did actively participate in the planning process if it were to go back on its initial agreement regarding the orientation of the A1 building.

Sincerely yours,

Maureen Dwyer
