Parking at the George Washington University is going through a transitional period. The current construction projects on campus are implementing underground parking structures in order to adhere to the campus plan. Parking structures are currently being constructed at Square 103-Law Learning Center Garage and Square 55-Science and Engineering Hall. GW is dedicated to accommodating parkers during this transition by providing additional spaces at the Kennedy Center, South Hall, and Square 54 at 2200 Pennsylvania Ave., NW.
